CONFLICTS OF INTEREST AND INDUCEMENTS

We are pro-actively working with reducing the risk for conflicts of interest and inducements that would lead to us, our employees, our owners, our partners or our closely related to have interests that is incompatible with the common best interest of the investors. A more in-depth description of our measures in this field is detailed in the section "Conflicts of interest and inducements" in the fund's information brochure, available at www.origofonder.se.

PROCESSING OF PERSONAL DATA

By requesting to become a client of ours, to invest in the fund and be registered as unit holder, we will collect and process your personal data. More information on our privacy procedures can be found in at www.origofonder.se.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

1) Our funds are specialfonder under the Swedish act on managers of alternative investment funds (SFS 2013:561). The fund is not a UCITS fund. The investor is solely responsible for ensuring that the investment is made in accordance with any applicable rules that may apply for the investor. Non-Swedish law may prohibit investments in the fund from foreign investors. Disputes relating to the investments in the fund is to be settled under Swedish law and Swedish public courts. Additional information about the fund's features and risks, and the conditions for investing in the fund, can be found in the fund's information brochure and fund rules, available at www.origofonder.se.

2) If you are an entity you must provide details on the beneficial owner in section 5.4. A beneficial owner is equivalent of a "verklig huvudman" as defined in Chapter 1, Sections 1–7 in the Swedish act on registration of beneficial owners (SFS 2017:634). Most often, this is the individual exercising the ultimate control over an entity due to a shareholding representing more than 25 percent of the total number of votes. If there is no beneficial owner, the chairman of the board, the managing director or an equivalent senior manager is considered to be the beneficial owner.

3) You have to state if you, the one you represent, or the beneficial owner, is a politically exposed person, or if a family member or person known to be a close associate is such. If so, we will contact you and ask for additional information before we can accept the subscription (purchase) of fund units.

A politically exposed person is defined in Chapter 1, Section 8 in the Swedish anti-money laundering act (SFS 2017:630), as an individual who is or has been entrusted with a prominent public function in a state, or an individual who is or has been in an executive position for an international organisation. A prominent public function includes roles as: (a) heads of state, heads of government, ministers and deputy or assistant ministers; (b) members of parliament; (c) members of the governing bodies of political parties; (d) members of supreme courts, of constitutional courts or of other high-level judicial bodies, the decision of which are not subject to further appeal, except in exceptional circumstances; (e) members of courts of auditors or of the boards of central banks; (f) ambassadors, chargés d'affaires and high-ranking officers in the armed forces; and (g) members of the administrative, management or supervisory bodies of state-owned enterprises.

The following persons are considered family members: parents, the spouse (or a person considered to be the equivalent of a spouse), cohabitant (sambo), registered partner, children and children's spouse (or a person considered to be the equivalent of a spouse), cohabitant (sambo), registered partner.

A person known to be a close associate means an individual who: (a) are known to have joint beneficial ownership of legal entities or legal arrangements, or any other close business relations, with a politically exposed person; and (b) have sole beneficial ownership of a legal entity or legal arrangement which is known to have been set up for the de facto benefit of a politically exposed person.

An individual is considered a politically exposed person for the period when the public function is exercised and for a period of 18 months thereafter.
